To Organize For Game Protection.

A movement is on foot to establish a fish and game protective association for Powell county, with the object of having the laws protecting our game and fish better enforced. Petitions have been sent out by the State Game and Fish Commission, one being in the hands of John Creed, county game warden, and the other in The Times office.

Such an organization is needed in this county, and it is hoped that enough citizens will sign the petition to ensure that Powell county will not be over looked in the distribution of fish and game. It is expected that large numbers of pheasants and quail will be sent out, and preference will, of course, be given to those counties where assurance is given that they will be protected. In a few years it will be possible to have good hunting and fishing in the county provided that the game and fish are protected.

Let everyone interested in either fishing or hunting sign these petitions and become a member of the association. There are no dues and no membership charges whatever, the obligation being merely to protect the game and fish in the county and uphold the laws.

David M. Reed.

David M. Reed, who has been ill for some time, passed away Sunday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. C. Vollmer. Mr. Reed was 82 years of age, and was a native of Indiana, having lived at Lawrenceburg until the death of his wife some years ago. For the past seven years he has made his home here with Mr. and Mrs. Vollmer, and his kindly nature made him a favorite with the entire neighborhood. Besides his daughter, Mrs. E. C. Vollmer, and two granddaughters, Mrs. Joseph Mountz and Helen Vollmer, he is survived by eight other children, all of whom are living in Indiana. The funeral took place Monday morning, services being held at the house by Rev. L. F. Mann. The burial was at the Eaton graveyard.

Goes To Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Conlee left Wednesday morning for Arcadia, Fla., where they will make their future home. We regret to see these people leave Clay City, but have little doubt but what they will be back ere long.

Moonlight School To Open Monday.

Mrs. Seale will start a class in the moonlight school Monday night, and those desiring to take advantage of this should notify her at once. The supplies were received some time ago, but the opening was postponed owing to the revival meeting. All adults who cannot read and write or who want to improve their education, are eligible to enter these classes, and there is no charge what ever, the state furnishing the materials and the teachers giving their time. No children of school age will be allowed in the classes.

Family Reunion.

The family of A. P. Bush held a reunion Wednesday, Oct. 13, and out of a family of ten children, ten grandchildren, four sons-in-law, and three daughters-in-law, all were present except the youngest child, Goebel. The gathering was held at home of George Bush, and the members of the family present were Nettie and Hugh Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan McKinney and Mrs. George McKinney and daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Edd Bush and baby Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bush and family and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Todd. The following guests were also present: Mother Burke, Bro. Reynolds Bro. and Sister Gouinn, Mrs. Mary Belle Pettit and children, Miss Hisle, Joe Clarke, Annie Kennon, Lucy Wells, Ruth Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, and Thos. McKinney.

Big Company Starts Work.

The deal between the Pearsite Company and the Day Lumber and coal Co., which has been pending for some time, has been finally closed, and the Pearsite company started work Tuesday preparing their ground for the erection of buildings. It is not known yet how many men the new concern will employ, but it will be in the neighborhood of 100 at the start, and officials say that they expect to run their plant day and night, as soon as they can commence operations. Preparations are also being made to start the planing mill of the Day company, and work will likely start there within a few days.

Card of Thanks

We desire to express our thanks and appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our beloved father and grandfather, who departed this life Oct. 17, 1915. May God's richest blessings rest upon them—Mr. Mrs. E. C. Vollmer and children.

L. W. Seales, superintendent of the Pearsite Co., made a business trip to Caney, Monday.

STANTON.

(By P. O. Derthick.)

Among those who attended court at Mt. Sterling Monday were Ross Hall, Dr. Lemming, A. J. Martin, Fred H. Blackburn and Geo. Derickson.

Mrs. Helen Jackson arrived Monday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Welch.

Mrs. John Napper, of Cane Creek, died Friday and was buried Saturday. She was a sister of Miss Nan Kelly.

Mrs. Carrie Knox, of South Fork, died Saturday and was buried Sunday.

A very sad death took place on Hatcher's Creek last week when little Lucille Barnes, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Butler Barnes, was taken down very suddenly and died within a few minutes. She had eaten her breakfast and was out gathering chestnuts when seized with severe pains in her head, and died before she could be carried to the house. Lucille was a very sweet little girl, beloved by her parents and a host of friends. It is hard to give up our little ones, but it is a tie that draws our thoughts heavenward and makes heaven seem nearer and dearer to us because of the loved one who has gone before. Since Lucille was taken away her father has confessed his Lord at a meeting held by Rev. Alonzo Willoughby at the N. Bend schoolhouse. Others who confessed were William Barnes, Herbert Johnson, Lizzie Arthur, Maggie Powell and Mary Martin.

Richard Crowe was called to Winchester to fill the appointment of Rev. Elbert Winkler, who was conducting a protracted meeting at Clay City. Rev. J. T. Adams filled Richard's place at Stanton Sunday night.

Rev. J. C. Hanley was taken down suddenly with severe pains in his arms and shoulders. The trouble seemed to be a nervous one and he is somewhat better now.

If anyone can beat A. J. Martin at growing potatoes let them take some to Lyle's store for comparison with the big ones on display in the window. As far as the writer can observe, Romulus Jackson is champion pumpkin grower of the county and he has some mammoth ones. It would be a good idea to have an exhibit of Powell county's products and see who grows the best vegetables, fruits and grains.

Judge A. J. Kirk delivered a strong address at the court house Tuesday on behalf of the Republican ticket. He was well received by the crowd present and put up some strong arguments. Among those who came to town to hear him was Burnam Skidmore.

Charley Rice has been building a barn for Ab Hall in Montgomery.

Stanton was almost deserted Sunday as nearly everybody went to Clay City to attend the meetings. A wagon driven by Romulus Jackson was overturned in a deep rut and all the occupants were thrown out. Mrs. D. L. Clark was quite seriously injured and is still confined to her bed and suffering considerable pain. It is thought some of her ribs are broken.

Dr. L. W. Johnson is attending the Medical Association meeting at Lexington this week.

Miss Nancy Even and Master Marion Atkinson visited in Winchester this week.

Miss Alice Creed and her mother have returned from Lexington, where they have been keeping house for Mrs. Creed's daughter, while she and her husband went to the Panama Exposition at San Francisco.

R. J. Stone left Tuesday to do some work for Dr. Driver, near Gordontown. Bob has just painted the house of the writer and many remarks are heard on the splendid job he did.

Mrs. Wm. Stephens and baby left Friday to visit in Mt. Sterling for a few days.

E. H. Fuller took his little son, Thomas C., to Lexington to see the circus, and the boy had the time of his life.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Ewen, of Jackson, arrived Friday for a visit with James Ewen and family. Mrs. Nell Ewen and little son are also visiting her parents this week.

Jailer Martin bought a fine piano from a Lexington firm.

Miss Mina Tipton visited her little cousins at Nada over Sunday.

Mrs. Lida Daniels was in Lexington Monday, having her eyes treated by a specialist.

Miss Derickson has received several new lock boxes for the post office.

The boys are working hard in the gymnasium and will give an exhibition of their prowess shortly.

Clifton Chaney left Monday for a business trip to Breathitt.

Miss Emma Hatton and Crit Congleton, both of Hatton Creek, were married last Thursday by Justice Caudill.

Chris Abner brought his little girl, Charity, home from the hospital last week. It is still very doubtful if her remaining eye can be saved, owing to the treatment being delayed so long. Her other eye was removed some time ago.

A very distressing accident occurred at Burke's mill at Rosslyn last Saturday.
